

BOSTON WINS SECOND GAME 2-1

MAKES WINNING RUN IN NINTH; PRESIDENT WILSON AND FIANCEE ARE LEADING ROOTERS

National League Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—President Wilson saw the champions of the American league turn back the Philadelphia club by a score of 2 to 1 in the second game of the world's series.

Twenty thousand people saw George Foster turn back the National leaguers from the plate, inning after inning making a fitting cap on the climax of the game. The Boston Red Sox garnered ten hits but Mayor managed to keep them fairly well scattered.

President Wilson was given an ovation as he left the field.

President Wilson and his wife and left fielders were smoked by Mrs. Norman Galt, looked on while the Philadelphia Nationals and Boston Americans came to grips today at the second game of the world's base ball series with some 20,000 spectators. With one battle flag captured the Philadelphia's pressed on the second line of trenches to make it two straight games in this base ball warfare while Manager Carrigan, leading the Boston Red Sox, started a counter offensive to even up the series before the second phase of the campaign was commenced in Boston next Monday.

Thousands came early to the ball yard and by noon the back field seats were filled and the crowd still coming and pressing for admission. The reserved stands filled slowly, though hundreds came long before game time to see President Wilson and his party on their arrival.

The presidential box near the Boston player's bench off third base glowed with red, white and blue bunting and small American flags. The playing field was in fine shape for play, a brisk wind during the night having fanned most of the dampness from the ground while a warm sun this morning helped in the drying out process. The Philadelphians had a brief morning practice and found inner and outer gardens to their liking. "We'll be in there with some real hitting," said Captain Luderus, the Philadelphia first sacker. "And it does not make any difference to us who is in the box for Boston."

Manager Carrigan held three pitchers ready to do his sharp shooting. Foster, Wood and Leonard. Foster looked like the choice as Boston's moundman. Luderus and Mayer were fit for the line for the home folk while the left hander Ephra Rixey was in reserve. Both teams took plenty of batting practice and the crowd cheered as some of the long drives dropped in the back field benches. The fielding practice was smart and there were many good stops and throws.

At 12:30 p.m. the President and his party arrived at 2:05 o'clock and took their places in the presidential box. The crowd rose and cheered and President Wilson bowed to the ball players and then shook hands with Mayor Blankenburg. President Wilson and Mrs. Galt were given a continuous ovation. President Baker of the Philadelphia club welcomed President Wilson who was then given a new ball to throw out. Meanwhile the Philadelphians took their positions on the field.

Although the Phillies have one name to their credit what little betting there is on the series still favors the Bostonians. There seems to be plenty of Boston money, but the would-be bettors are reluctant to give the odds of 3 to 2 and 5 to 3 demanded by the Philadelphia backers. Several wagers were laid at these figures on the result of today's game, however.

The news that nearly 700 bleacher seats remained unoccupied during yesterday's game because the fans had despaired of securing admittance, caused thousands to flock to the grounds today and there was an unprecedented rush for the one dollar seats. The presence of President Wilson who was to throw out the first ball, also increased the demand for admittance. The gates had scarcely closed yesterday afternoon before the enthusiastic bleacherites began to form in line for the dreary all-night wait for an opportunity to obtain first row seats today. By midnight the line had grown to several hundred and at 10 a. m. when the gates were opened it extended for blocks. All hands had brought various devices for making themselves comfortable and despite the chill wind every one seemed happy. Vendors of coffee and sandwiches did a rushing business.

Judging from the number of vacant seats at yesterday's game the ticker speculators did not reap the golden harvest they had anticipated. It was estimated that approximately 300 seats in the

"I'm So Happy," Says Wilson's Fiancee As He Buys Ring

Mrs. Norman Galt.

New York, Oct. 9.—That President Wilson is "head over heels" in love has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of officials and callers who have been received at the White House since the announcement of his engagement to Mrs. Norman Galt. And, "I am so happy," says his fiancee.

While the president and Mrs. Galt were in New York he purchased a solitaire diamond ring for her and today she wore it proudly. The president himself did not go to the jeweler's for the ring but sent a member of his party.

ANDERSON WINS BIG RACE; GOES 350 MILES IN 3:24:42; SHATTERS WORLD'S RECORD

GERMAN LOSSES HEAVY, FRENCH OFFICER SAYS

Paris, Oct. 9.—The reports of the night indicate that the German losses in the offensive of yesterday against the positions of the Allies near Loos were very heavy.

This information was given out by the French war office this afternoon.

Other violent attacks on the part of the Germans southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, were completely repulsed. All the French advances of recent days have been maintained. There has been fairly spirited cannonading in the sector of Lisons as well as at Quennevieres and Nœuvion.

"A German counter attack last night at the Navrin farm, in the Champagne district was checked by the French."

London, Oct. 9.—Although the last 24 hours brought no climax in the changed political situation in the Balkans, London begins to view it in clearer perspective. The departure of the quadruple Entente diplomats has given finality to Bulgaria's commitment to the side of the Central Powers but as yet there has been no formal declaration of war between Bulgaria and Serbia or the Entente.

"Excepting an unconfirmed report of a Russian bombardment of the Bulgarian coast near Varna no overt act of hostilities has been committed by Bulgaria or her new opponents."

Nevertheless Bulgaria is reported to be preparing a flank attack on Serbia, carried out in conjunction with the Austro-German invasion.

According to official Serbian advice the Austro-German attack has not won much of an initial success, the invaders having suffered large losses in crossing the Save and now being pinned at the brink of the river. Many Germans are among the prisoners and some of them are said to be members of a Prussian brigade which formerly was operating against Italy.

There still remains a slight element of doubt as to the attitude of Greece which probably will not be dispelled until the new cabinet makes definite pronouncement of its practicability.

In the meantime the Entente Powers appear to have assurances of continued neutrality and see no reason to believe Greece intends to array herself against them. Allied troops to the number of 23,000 are reported to have landed already at Saloniki.

Russia has made official announcement of the sinking of a German transport by a British submarine in the Baltic.

The Danish front claims great attention in the eastern fighting zone. The Germans are now launching an attempt to take the city from the north and their onslaught exceeds in violence the previous attacks from the west and south. A desperate action has been fought ten miles north of Dvinik and the Russians admit loss of part of their trenches. From Dvinik to the Lida-Molodechno railroad local successes are claimed by the Russians.

On the part of the eastern front the rapidity of attacks and counter attacks the capture and recapture of trenches, leaving it in doubt which side is really on the defensive.

German artillery fire continues along the whole of the western front, being directed with particular violence against Loos to regain which the Germans are making a determined effort and against the left wing of the attacking French forces in Champagne. Speculation as to the next surprise this falladesopie will bring forth is always active as given fresh life today by a cryptic remark in the Daily Telegraph, which includes an editorial on events in the Balkans says:

"Meanwhile the world is waiting for news of events, which as they come to pass, will once more profoundly change the aspect of the war situation."

SEVERAL HURT IN WRECK

Lyndburg, Va., Oct. 9.—The New Orleans-New York Limited of the Southern Railway, bound north, was in head on collision with a south bound local passenger train early today near Arrington, Va. No passengers on the limited were injured but a baggage master was seriously hurt. Several passengers, most of them negroes, on the local were hurt, none of them fatally. The wreck tore up the tracks and knocked down telegraph wires. It was at first reported that several passengers on the limited had been hurt and doctors were dispatched to the scene.

MACHINISTS IN HAMILTON GO ON STRIKE

Hamilton, O., Oct. 9.—More than 120 machinists employed at plants here did not return to work when the plants opened today, and it was learned that they had gone out on a strike last night. The plants are the Thompson-Owens and the Rentschler-Curtis Engine Works.

The men demand an eight hour day with the same pay they received for a nine hour day, and also time and a half for overtime.

Gee, I'm about all in. These Kora Karnivals are a bushel o' fun and work too, but they're also a bit of work too, but in true Kora spirit no one seems to mind the work so long as we have the fun. Its some Karnival and I've done some parading in it and here's hopin' for even more and better next year. Here's the weather:

Ohio—Fair and cold tonight with heavy frost. Temperature close to freezing in North and Central. Sunday fair; slightly warmer in west portion.

Kentucky—Fair tonight with heavy frost Sunday, fair and somewhat warmer.

BILLS JUST COVER THEMSELVES WITH GLORY

THE PRIZE WINNERS

Tallest Bill—Bill Scott.
Shortest Bill—Bill Doyle, Jr.
Heaviest Bill—Bill Beyer.
Lightest Bill—Bill Charley.

Each prize winner will get a perfectly good two dollar bill. The judges were Wells Hutchins, R. E. Scott and George E. Krieger.

Surpassing in numbers the famous John Parade of last year and topped up with many novelties that added an additional touch of interest the unique name parade, which has come to be a feature of the Kora Carnival was held Friday night and the Bills of this town, old and young, short and thick were there diked out in their happiest smiles.

It was just one big family of Bills and as they paraded over the thronged down town streets the Bills, haughty, smiling, congenial, affable and enthusiastic were given much applause. The parade was in keeping with all other parades held in connection with the Carnival. There were many unique floats the most famous Bills were portrayed, stirring music culled of the parade, which was the greatest kind of a success.

William Peerless Was Right There
No less a personage than William Peerless Brown was in the parade, riding with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Brown of 2022 Seventh street. Wearing a white knit cap and easily enclosed in a white knit suit William Peerless was at his best. The first child to be born in this city in 1915 was proudly held up by Mr. Brown and William Peerless came in for his share of the applause. Bill Russell kindly loaned his car for the occasion.

The parade, formed at Gallia and North Waller streets came west on Gallia to Findlay, north on Findlay street to Seventh, west on this street to Chillicothe, south on Chillicothe to Second west on Second to Market where the parade disbanded.

All Bill Band Made Big Hit
It was headed by Mayor Frick, Chief of Police Allen and a platoon of police and then followed the famous all-Bill band, which made the biggest kind of a hit. Bill Crain was the leader and the Bills in the band were: Kirk, Braunlin, Possum, Gray, Shelby, Tantoney, Sisler, Maxey, Stevens, Turner and Andre.

Immediately back of the all-Bill band rode Bill Burt and Bill Richards in an automobile. They were followed by the River City band and Bills on foot. There were all Billed up, each wearing a Bill badge. Chairman Burt estimated that there were fully 1200 Bills in the parade. They not only came from the city but the West Side, Scioto Trail, Lucasville, New Boston, East Portsmouth, Wheelersburg and Franklin Furnace sent their full quota of Bills.

Bill Shakespeare Takes a Prize
The world's most noted Bill, Bill Shakespeare was portrayed by Harvey Shonkwiler, Times cartoonist, who sat at the end of a beautiful float.

Bill Taft was portrayed in a very effective manner by Bill Barnetson, well known carpenter. Bill Bryan was portrayed by Alan N. Jordan and this caricature received its full share of applause from the immense throngs that witnessed the parade, generally admitted to being one of the best of the kind ever seen in Portsmouth.

Buffalo Bill was portrayed by John R. Williams of the Scioto Sand company. The Bills who rode in machines were as follows: Weatherwax, Temple, Barbee, Donaldson, Montgomery, Turner, Willis, Leichner, Daugherty, Barnetson, Brande, McGowan, Wagner, Higgins, Baesman, Gulkler, Smith, White and Tomlinson.

Bill Brandle and Bill Kelley rode in a prettily decorated pony and cart. The Hill Billies from the Hilltop occupied a section of the parade and certainly kept things moving.

Bill Williams was undoubtedly one of the hits of the parade. He had a possum daunging around on the limb of a tree and his make up was a cracker-jack.

Fat Man Willing To Be Kissed

Bill Beyer was attired in a suit of overalls. He rode in a carriage and over it was this sign: "If you love a fat man kiss me." Bill Emmett of 631 Eighth street portrayed Kaiser Bill and his make up was a clever one.

Bill Bauer had a great float. A bill goat was penned up and Bill Bauer, Jr., rode in the cage with the goat.

The Bills from the Red Men rode on horseback and made a fine showing. Bill Hester was the leader.

The Portsmouth and Buckeye bands were there in great shape, and played a number of stirring pieces.

Bill Smith and Bill Schaefer, M. D.'s rode in a prettily decorated buggy.

Two of the oldest men in the parade were William Cry and Squire W. P. McGlone. The former is 89 years of age and the father of sixteen children. The latter is 73 years of age and the father of an even dozen children.

Billy Goat Also There
Bill Jenkins of New Boston had a cart hauled by a billy goat and occupied by two children.

Three generations of the Stone family were represented in the parade. Bill Campbell Stone, Bill Howard Stone and Bill Adolph Stone.

Bill McManus wore a dress and his make up was clever.

Bill Albrecht portrayed Uncle Sam.

Bill "Button" Scott carried a banner which read: "Bill Casey Won't You Please Come Home."

and "Some Bills Are Due, Get Busy."

Of course our own Billy-Burt came in for his share of the applause.

Bill Yuenger led a billy goat which was all diked out for the parade.

Bill Bradford wore a dress suit and rode on horseback.

Bill Daugherty, son of John Daugherty of 1817 Offshore street rode in Bill Sprague's car. He was the youngest Bill, being only eight weeks old.

There is no denying the fact that the Bill Parade was a hum-dinger. It was replete with novelties in a decorative way and much credit of the success of the parade goes to Chairman Bill Burt. He certainly worked hard to make the parade a success. His chief lieutenants last night were: Bill Richards, Bill Clayton, Bill

Smith, Bill Ferguson, Bill Oldfield, Bill Gordon, Bill Daehler and Bill Sellards.

Big Railroad Drama At Arcana Theatre
"Chasing The Limited," a great Universal production featuring Marie Walcamp and Wellington Playter is the special picture for today. Few people realize the great strain upon the train dispatcher or operator in keeping track of all the trains, and if perchance he makes a mistake, the fearful disaster that follows. In this picture a mistake is made and the operator makes every effort a human being can make to catch the limited and avoid a horrible wreck. How he succeeds will be shown in this thrilling and nerve racking picture. Charlie Chaplin's latest capers fills out the day's offering and Charlie always makes you laugh. Go out and see him and surprise the folks at home by coming home in a good humor. Splendid music all the time as the orchestra never grows weary.

WOODMEN HELP TO MAKE THE KARNIVAL A SUCCESS

Nearly Thousand Visitors Come On The Homer Smith

Woodmen of the World from three states, Ohio, Kentucky, W. Virginia, assembled in Portsmouth today at the third annual Tri-State Log Rolling, held in connection with the Korm Karnival.

Cold weather kept the attendance down below what the committee had planned for, while the non-arrival of the speakers necessitated a change in the program. Neither W. A. Fraser, of Texas, nor Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, arrived, and the speaking part of the exercises was eliminated.

Between 800 and 1000 people arrived on the Homer Smith Saturday morning from Huntington and intermediate points, while a few hundred more arrived on the different trains.

The delegation from the Homer Smith paraded from the wharf to the N. & W. depot behind the Ashland band and return, led by the Woodmen Circle of South Portsmouth, while the local degree team brought up the rear. W. W. Smith of Parkersburg, was grand marshal of the parade with Col. J. A. Brewer of Louisville, J. A. Meredith of Ashland and Captain Roller of Parkersburg as aides.

Five degree teams from Huntington, Parkersburg, New Boston, South Portsmouth and Portsmouth were competing in the prize drills on Market street at press time. The same teams will compete in the floor drills at the lodge hall after the open air contest is concluded.

BODY OF MISSING MAN IS FOUND IN THE OHIO RIVER

The body of a man, thought to be that of George Brown, a Terminal employee, of near Fullerton, was pulled out of the Ohio river near the foot of Sinton street by Harley Wales, and his brother, Charles Wales, local shoeworkers, of 1011 Mill street, about one o'clock this afternoon.

The body was fastened to the steel anchor attached to the launch of Frank Knauss, which the Wales brothers had been bailing out and getting ready for use. It was raised to the surface and placed in the boat. Examination of the clothing revealed a grocery slip made out to George Brown, the only mark of identification to be found.

Later, friends of Brown along the river front identified it as his body.

Coroner J. W. Daehler was summoned at once, and was on the scene in a short time after the body was recovered. After a brief investigation he ordered it removed to the Daehler morgue, where further examination disclosed no marks of any kind that would indicate foul play. Unless some evidence is unearthed during the day that would call for further investigation, a verdict of accidental drowning will be returned by the coroner, he announced this afternoon.

Inquiry at Fullerton brought forth the information that Brown has been missing from his home, located about a mile back of that village, since last Thursday morning. Nothing was thought of his absence, as it was thought that he had planned to remain over in this city during the Korm Karnival.

Coroner Daehler was unable to obtain any information that would assist him in unraveling the mystery surrounding the drowning. Whether he fell out of a boat or fell off the shore is a matter of conjecture. The body was found about twenty feet from the Ohio shore. The condition of the body indicated that it had been in the water for about two days.

Brown was about 30 years of age, married, and the father of seven children, all living. He was a hard working, industrious man, well respected in the community in which he lived. His father, Louis Brown, a Civil War veteran, resides in this city.

SEARCH FOR BANDITS WHO ROBBED TRAIN

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 9.—Hundreds of armed men scoured the hills of Harrison, Pleasant and Doddridge counties during the night in search of the highway men who last Thursday robbed Baltimore and Ohio passenger train No. 1 at Central Station and got away with unsigned bank notes said to have a face value of $500,000.

Every available crew was followed by sheriffs, United States deputy marshals and possees of citizens but information reaching here this morning was that no real progress had been made.

The hunt was taken up again soon after daybreak in the hope of locating the rilled mail bagstrains.

PAN-AMERICANS TO DISCUSS MEXICO TODAY

Washington, Oct. 9.—Intention of the United States to recognize the Carranza government, it was considered almost certain here today, would be announced at the end of the fourth Pan-American conference in the Mexican situation.

Latin American diplomats were to meet with Secretary of State Lansing here today, in what many believed would be their final gathering. All the Mexican factions have been heard and it was believed that all that remained was to decide which presented the strongest claims, and offer the least evidence that it could maintain a stable government.

Data gathered by the conference, which is said to show that Carranza has attained military supremacy, backed by Carranza's guarantees of protection to foreigners and their property, it was believed, would be the basis of recognition. That such action should be taken, it was believed, would be conveyed to the conference by Secretary Lansing. The other Latin American countries are expected to sanction the plan.

The effect of an announcement of an intention to recognize Carranza, it is believed, would be to bring opposing elements to his support and remedy present conditions, despite official reports showing little improvement in some parts of Mexico.

Traveled to Germany With a Bottle of Peruna

Everybody Who Is Troubled With Catarrh Should Take Peruna

Mr. August Haase, St. Anthony, Duluth Co., Indiana, writes: "I was troubled much with catarrh for several years. I was advised to take Peruna and used two bottles of it, which did me much good. I decided to see my old home in Germany again, after an absence of forty years, and bought a bottle of Peruna to take with me on my way. Whenever I would have symptoms of catarrh I would take Peruna and so was very well while going over. I would advise every one who suffers from the same to take Peruna. I was in Germany nine months, and during that time had no attacks. I was then sixty-six years old. Last winter I took cold and got catarrh of the head. I took Peruna and was helped. Every body who is troubled with catarrh should take Peruna."

Another letter: "I followed your good advice and took one bottle of Peruna. It helped me, then I bought another one and used only a part of it. I am rid of the catarrh and thank you very much for your good advice. I will always keep Peruna in the house and if I hear of any one suffering from catarrh I certainly will recommend your medicine."

Those who object to liquid medicine can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Petty Thieves Try To Steal Displays

Fellows with itching fingers haunted the booths, and constant vigilance alone saved many a theft from them. In one instance Mrs. John W. Russell, who was in watch-keeping a parade from a window in the corner of Fifth and second story above her husband's "rickled" at recovering the hat that from Russell's booth and stick it in his coat.

In another case, Wm. Fowler, who was standing some distance away, saw a man carry away a sack of flour. Just apparently casually meeting up with him, Wm. said: "The man you stole that flour from is a particular friend of mine. Now you go and put that sack back or down you and I go to the police station." The flour was returned hurriedly.

MARDI GRAS TONIGHT TO BE KARNIVAL FEATURE

Portsmouth's 1915 Korn Carnival, the most successful from every standpoint ever held, will close in a blaze of glory tonight with the Mardi Gras parade.

Every man, woman and child in the city is eligible to enter, and the indications are that the parade will far exceed those of former years in the number in line.

At noon today the clouds that have been hovering over Portsmouth for the past 24 hours, lifted, and the sun was beaming its brightest, removing the last barrier to a successful parade.

Only persons who are masked will be allowed to parade, but this restriction will have no effect on the length of the pageant, as every one is planning to mask.

The parade will form at 7:15 o'clock at the corner of Third and Market streets, but those who expect to participate are urged to assemble in advance of that time, as the first division will move on scheduled time, and every effort will be made to avoid any hitch at the start.

The parade will move south on Market to Second, east on Second to Chillicothe, north on Chillicothe street, past the reviewing stand to Eighth street, east on Eighth to Waller, south on Waller to Gallia, west on Gallia to Chillicothe, south on Chillicothe street past the reviewing stand the second time to Front street, where it will disband.

Frank W. Sheridan is chairman of the committee on arrangements, and is Grand Marshal of the parade. He has surrounded himself with a capable corps of aides, who have had experience in parade formations, and the public can rest assured that the parade will move on time and in the best possible formation.

Four prizes will be awarded as follows: $5 to the gentlemen wearing the most comic costume, and $3 to the one wearing the next most comic costume; to the two most comically dressed women, $5 and $3 respectively.

The masked revelry will continue until a late hour, and Portsmouth tonight will be in the grasp of the true Mardi Gras spirit.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY IS OBSERVED

Fine Parade Held Over City Streets

Fire Prevention Day, the day proclaimed by Governor Willis for householders to inspect their premises and remove the dangers for which they are responsible, was fittingly observed for the first time in Portsmouth, Saturday.

Tastefully decorated with flags and bunting the entire fire fighting apparatus of the city, and the firemen looking spic and span in full dress uniforms, paraded the principal streets of the city, forming at Third and Market streets, and moving east on Second to Chillicothe, thence to Gallia to Offshore and over various Hill Top and East End streets and back to Fourth and Chillicothe streets.

The procession was headed by the River City band and members of the Korn Carnival committee as an official escort, followed by Mayor Adam Fick and Vice Mayor W. E. Cook, and city department heads and councilmen in automobiles. Then came Fire Chief W. A. McQuat, and the various engine companies adorned with "Safety First" and "Fire Prevention" and other appropriately inscribed streamers and banners, painted by Assistant Fire Chief Charles Fine's, warning the householders to inspect his home from cellar to attic, the merchant to remove trash and have wiring inspected and the city fathers to haul away the trash. Some of these read thusly: "Inspect your Flues", "Water is Bad, Fire is Worse, Guard your Matches", "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure", "Boys and Matches are Bad Combinations", "The Most Dangerous Closet is Under the Stairway, Clean Up", "With Co-operation You Can Do Almost Anything Without it you can do Nothing", "Co-operation Will Arouse Interest and Thus Educate the Public", "We Must Fight the Battle from All Sides and Give the Fire Demon no Avenue of Escape", "Get Busy", "Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Safety", "Is Your Sprinkling System O. K. All Fires are the Same Size at the Start", "Let's Be Careful, Be the Slogan", "Romeo Greulich, the little son of City Electrician Albert T. Greulich, and who is the mascot of the department, was attired in a fireman's uniform and occupied a seat on the stack of the Seventh street company's steamer. Raymond Saunders also rode beside his father, Albert Saunders, driver of the ladder truck.

While motoring to Chillicothe after attending the Korn Carnival here Thursday, Messrs. Charles Ware, Francis Hydel, Earl Greishimer, Everett Edinger and L. O. Wadley, of Chillicothe, figured in a serious accident.

In rounding a sharp curve, just north of Waverly, a rear tire on the machine burst and the machine crashed into a telephone pole. The wind shield was shattered and the car was badly damaged. All the occupants were thrown into a corn field, but none were hurt badly.

In hitting the telephone pole the machine pulled some wires down and telegraph service in The Times office was crippled for two hours as a result of the accident.

Huge Wooden Ball Falls; Joe Kountz Near Its Path

Less than a foot separated Joe Kountz, popular salesman at the Criterion Clothing Co., from hearing the angels calling, Saturday morning, Joe's natal day.

Incidentally, the lapse of a few hours prevented from what might have been several fatalities on Chillicothe street.

While Mr. Kountz was raising the awning in front of the Criterion Clothing Store, Saturday morning, the big wooden ball attached to the flag staff on top of the Wertz building, took a tumble to itself and came crashing to the street below. Oscar Runk, who was standing across the street, shouted a warning to Mr. Kountz, who ducked just in time, for the ball, which was more than two feet in diameter, missed his head but a few inches. It broke into a hundred pieces when it came in contact with the concrete pavement, and had it caressed Joe's head he would not have been in shape to view the Mardi Gras parade booked for tonight.

What caused the ball to chase such an opportune time to fall is not known, but had it tumbled off its lofty perch while the street was thronged with people, there is little question but some one would have been killed or badly injured. The ball weighed about twenty pounds and fell from a distance of nearly 100 feet.

Mr. Kountz considers himself lucky, for had he not ducked his head when Mr. Runk yelled a warning, he might have been put completely out of business, a previewing life cut short in the midst of the biggest time Portsmouth ever had. Mr. Kountz believes that he was born under a lucky star, and owes his present existence to that fact. Had the ball descended on his sky piece it would have cut short his preparations for the celebration of his birthday, for he awoke Saturday morning to find that he was just one year older.

London Editors Rap Foreign Office

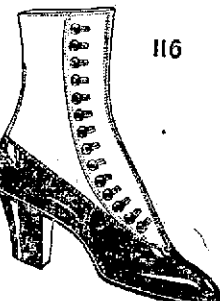

London, Oct. 9.—The newspapers devote an increased amount of editorial space to a discussion of the Allies' share in the Balkan demerit. The Post, after remarking that its handling of Balkan affairs has been a series of blunders which would have remarkable weight in a parish council, discusses at length the work of the foreign office in the diplomatic exchanges which preceded the war and then in the contraband controversy over iron ore and cotton.

The Post finally turns bluntly to the proposal for establishing an international court of appeals from decisions of the prize court, saying: "Should it prove to be the case that such a design is being prosecuted, we say plainly that in the name of our National honor and our national security the resignation of Sir Edward Grey and the resignation of the foreign office will be demanded."

"We do not propose to commit the decisions of a British judge to a mongrel assembly of foreign jurists in which Great Britain can be outvoted by representatives of Turkey, Bolivia, Switzerland and Germany. It may be that its series of unparalleled blunders is due simply to incompetence. If it is not incompetence, what is it?"

In its discussion of Balkan affairs, the Mail says: "We have frittered away our great near Eastern project, literally allowing them to be snatched out of our hands through optimism, carelessness and stupidity. Our failure closes a great page in history. What possible excuse has the foreign office to make to our Allies and to our people?"

Continue Work Of "Father of Newsboys"

Toledo, O., Oct. 9.—J. D. Robinson, of a local glass company, was elected president of the Toledo Newsboys' Association last night, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Gunkel. It was decided that a fund of $100,000 should be raised to continue the work of the late "Father of the Newsboys," and a committee was appointed to find ways and means.

This plan is considered by the trustees as a fitting memorial to John E. Gunkel and his self-government plan of newsboys' work.

Courage of Despair. A schoolboy's composition furnishes the following: "The courage of the Turks is explained by the fact that a man with more than one wife is more willing to face death than if he had only one."

Mrs. Troubridge Callaway.

Twenty-five or more men bathers looked at each other in helpless confusion when a cry for help was heard on the beach at Spring Lake, N. J. About 150 feet off shore another man was floundering in the water. Suddenly a woman came running down the beach, leaped into the water dressed in her street clothes, and dragged the drowning man ashore. The woman was Mrs. Troubridge Callaway, whose husband is a business partner of Stoyvesant Fish. The man she saved was Axel Benson, a neighbor's butler.

TIMES FURNISHED NEWS TO HUNDREDS OF FANS

Bulletin Board Is Closely Watched; Teams Play Today

Baseball fans in the city literally pelted The Times with telephone calls Friday afternoon to get the result of the first world series game.

The sentiment here is strongly with the Red Sox and when the fans learned that the Phils had copied the first game they were greatly disappointed.

There are many staunch admirers of the Phils in this city, but it is believed that Boston has the call, students of the game declaring that the Boston outfit is a better balanced club than the Phils.

The Times posted the innings on a huge scoreboard near Second and Chillicothe streets and the splendid service was appreciated by fans who were eager to get all the news from Philadelphia.

Each full inning was posted on the board and they were eagerly scanned by the fans. Boston rotters firmly believe that the Red Sox will come through and win the series despite the fact that the Phils are away in front.

If you want to get the news of the world's series right off the bat drop around to The Times bulletin board at Second and Chillicothe streets. You will be welcome and you will get first-hand news of the game.

ONLY FEW BETS MADE

Betting locally favors the Red Sox. A few small wagers have been made. Fans are content to assimilate the news as it filters in. The big scene and keep their kate in their jeans. It may be a tough old winter.

THIS MAY BE A TIP FOR YOU, FANS; BOSTON HAS NEVER LOST BIG SERIES

Perhaps you didn't know it, fans, but it's true nevertheless that Boston the city of culture and beans, has never lost a world's baseball series. Three times Boston has figured in the playoff and each time the standard bearer of the Hub has returned the victor.

Back in 1903 Boston's American League entry won over the Pittsburgh Nationals five games to three. In 1912 the Red Sox defeated the New York Giants, four games to three. Last fall the Boston Braves walloped the Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games. Thus in three series the Boston starters have won thirteen games and lost six.

This may be a little hunch for some of those who plan to bet on the Philadelphia Nationals against the Boston Red Sox in the forthcoming series.

Barry Fielding Star

Jack Barry was the fielding star of the first game. The former Athletic star accepted eight chances cleanly and lined out one hit. Barry is generally accepted of being one of the best infielders in either league.

Outfielders To Play An Important Part

The outfielders of the Red Sox and the Phils are expected to play roles of unusual importance in the world's series between the Boston Americans and the Philadelphia Nationals. No other department of the great teams can show the collection of stars that will be found among the eight players who are available for places in the outer garden.

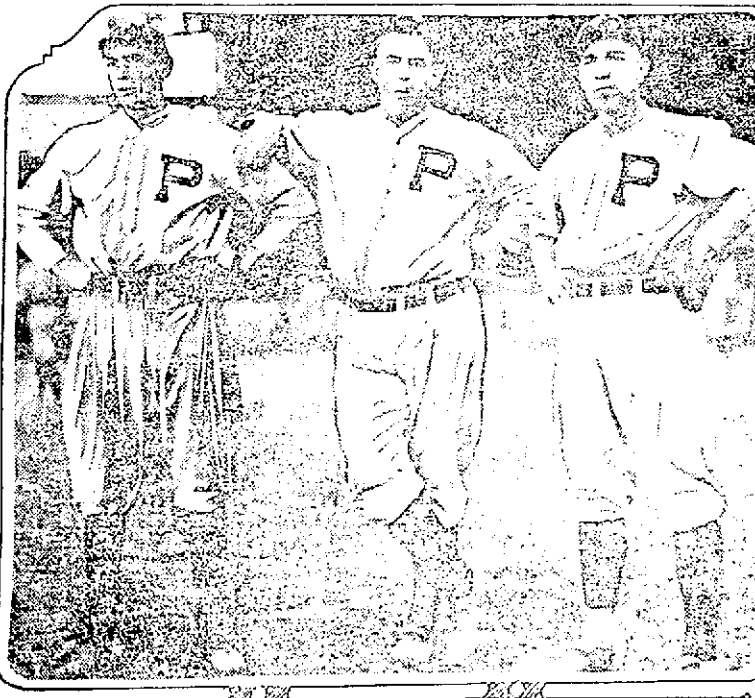

Mention need only be made of Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper for the Phils and Eddie Collins and Eddie Collins for the Sox. The Sox have a strong outfield and the Phils have a strong one.

Oh You Alexander!

Well, the Phils are off in front.

Cravath claims that the team that won the first game has a thirty per cent hunch on their opponents in so short a series as the big series now being staged and if this is true the Phils are going to cash in. They will if Alexander can come through with two in the first inning. The Sox have a strong outfield and the Phils have a strong one.

WILL DEFEND OUTER GARDEN FOR PHILS IN WORLD'S SERIES

Statistics don't help much in doing out the world's series, but with Cravath in the right field trenches, Speaker ready to capture anything that may wander out to center, and Whitted holding down the left field territory, it looks as if the Phils will be able to make almost as good a showing in the outer garden as the famous Red Sox outfield in the world's series.

GRAVES WILLIAMS STARS IN U.-P. GAME

GRAVES WILLIAMS PENN. HALF BACK WHO IS PLAYING A SENSATIONAL GAME. FROM A PHOTOGRAPH BY PHILADELPHIA PRESS.

Graves Williams made a name for himself in a football way by his brilliant work with the University of Pennsylvania team last Saturday in Philadelphia. Relative to his consistent playing the Philadelphia Press said: "When Franklin and Marshall first awayed to try the open game of attack, the tucker secondary defense was bewildered and too often for the comfort of the Penn. followers. Captain Mylin and his mates successfully completed forward passes for long gains. Then came Graves Williams, who yesterday started his first game as a Red and Blue player, to the rescue.

Graves was a mighty busy chap on the defense and no less than five times did he upset Mylin's play. Williams played the best all-around game of any player of the Penn. team. He was rarely that he was trusted with the pigskin that he failed to gain the necessary distance. Near the end of play through the line, with the hard-fighting Williams carrying the ball, and it was rarely that he was trusted with the pigskin that he failed to gain the necessary distance. Near the end of the fourth quarter he was injured, and was relieved by Vincent Welch. Williams was tendered a howling cheer of appreciation by the students as he was carried from the field.

Larry Doyle Tops National Batsmen

Larry Doyle, of New York, is the National's champion batter with a .315 average. Cravath of Philadelphia led in runs scored with 82; in total bases with 268 and in home runs with 21, one below his league record set by Buck Freeman of Washington in 1929.

TY SHOWS WAY WITH WAR CLUB

Chicago, Oct. 9.—For the eighth time in his career Ty Cobb is champion batter of the American League, according to averages published here today. Beginning in 1907 the Detroit player has led the hitters in every season except in 1908 when the official scores gave Cris-

Today Cobb's average for the season just ended is .339. In stolen bases the Georgia has a new league record at 97 for the season. The old mark for the American League was 88, credited to Miller of Washington in 1912.

In runs scored Cobb is ahead of all with 116 and leads in total bases with 251. Those following Cobb in batting are: E. Collins, 233; Fournier, Chicago, 230; Speaker, Boston, 219; Miller, Philadelphia, 211; Jackson, Chicago, 206; Vaughn, Detroit, 208; Kirby, Cleveland, 203; Crawford, Detroit, 201; Strauss, Philadelphia, 200; Gainer, Boston, 199; Kavanagh, Detroit, 202; Balthus, New York, 200; Lewis, Boston, 200; Shreve, St. Louis, 200.

WHY DOYLE WAS HAPPY

One of the happiest men in town last night was Scott Billy Doyle. He is a strong admirer of Alexander and the Phils, and he believes the Phils will win four out of six games from their opponents.

AMERICANS IN FRONT

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The White Sox today won the third game of the series for the city championship from their National League rivals, the Cubs 5 to 3. The series now stands 2 to 1 in the American favor.

The score: Nationals, 0-0-0-0-0-0-0-2-3-3-0. Americans, 6-0-0-0-0-0-0-3-1-2-1. Batteries: Pierce, Zabel and Archer; Faber and Schatz.

TAFT WORKS HARD TO KEEP DOWN WEIGHT

Ex-President Taft at Coronado Beach, Cal.

Ex-President William H. Taft has taken time off from his duties as a law professor at Yale to reduce his weight. A strenuous test on the golf links. He is seen here starting off for the ninth hole at Coronado Beach, Cal. The caddy is not at all affected by the celebrated personage for whom he is carrying golf clubs.

HAD YOU THOUGHT OF THIS?

It is barely possible that not a home run will be made in the small park at Philadelphia during the big series. It is a small park and the outfield is not as deep as the outfield at St. Louis, and the outfield is not as deep as the outfield at St. Louis, and the outfield is not as deep as the outfield at St. Louis.

Long On Infielders

In the present world's series between the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans both teams will be well provided with infield material. All told there are no less than thirteen players who may be called upon to take defensive positions around the base paths.

The Red Sox have seven experienced infielders, who by a series of shifts can be formed into several combinations of unusual strength both at the bat and on the diamond. The Phils, while well equipped with regulars, are not as strong numerically or in general average as their rivals, when the infield squads are considered as a whole.

Philadelphia Solomon.

A Philadelphia police magistrate was called on to decide the ownership of a dollar bill which was found in the street by a negro and claimed to have been lost by a white man. After hearing the story of each claimant the court said: "I believe the dollar belonged to the white man, but since the negro found it he is entitled to a reward. I therefore decree that each take fifty cents and call it a day's work."

Brief Missives.

"If I had had more time," a witty Frenchman used to write, "I could have made this letter shorter." Voltaire is credited with two of the briefest on record. One said, "Alas," and the other "Bravo." They were in recognition of a woman's bereavement and remarriage.

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, October 8, 1915. What the German general staff has to say about the big battles in Flanders Artois and the Champagne on a two hundred miles front confirms the previous Berlin estimates of the Allies losses. It figures the French losses of killed, wounded and prisoners at 130,000 and those of the British at 60,000 with the losses of the Germans at between one-fourth and one-third of this number. Whether we accept these figures or not we know that the proportions are right because the losses of the attacking forces are always far above those of the defenders behind their works with powerful modern armament and efficient handling of it. The war correspondent of the Argentine "Le Nacion" who witnessed the battle at Montois, Champagne, writes: "The great combined attack of the Allies on the German lines has broken down. In Champagne the French advanced from the south and tried to drive a wedge into the German lines at Massiges between Souain and the railroad which connects the German center and right. They stormed the first line but on the second the terrible German fire mowed them down by swathes.

They only broke it between Tahure and Herveon, where they got to the crest of the hill (Tahure) but could not take the village, which was held by the German landwehr. Their losses were tremendous. Parallel with the German trenches the open ground in front of them was but one long wall of dead bodies." From the orders of General Joffre and General French it appears that the combined effort of the British and French to the north of Arras was mainly directed against the German positions between La Bassée and Arras, which for a triangle. The northern flank was attacked by the British, the other by the French. Object was to gain the road from Arras to La Bassée between Neuville and Souchez. The British forced the road from Haines to Hulloch, the French at Thelus, west of Neuville.

By counterattacks the Germans have regained most of the ground with the exception of the ruins of Souchez so that the German front in this region today is almost the same as it was before the last Allies offensive.

In the Champagne the French have made more progress but are yet far from their goal, the German communications to their rear. By Joffre's plan, as indicated in his general orders, the British and French at Arras were to push east, the French in the Champagne north (from Souain and Massiges, about 180 miles southeast of Arras) and both armies were to unite at Namur for the march on Cologne. If the operations had been successful the German troops on a front of 180 miles would have been cut off and half of the German army bagged.

Louder says: "General Joffre's plan is simply to deliver at many selected points a series of assaults, which all will tend to disorganize the enemy's defensive line and lead finally to the strategic piercing thereof."

That is Joffre's new plan after the failure of his general offensive which certainly was made to break through, if possible. General Grant tried it a whole year before Richmond before he succeeded. Within a week Joffre has failed half a dozen times already.

The attacks are kept up by both sides along the whole line with varying success. The Germans recaptured what they had lost of the Hohenzollern and Kaiser Wilhelm redoubts at Loos and the works at Souchez taken by the French. Paris admits that they gained a footing at a crossing of five roads south of Givenchy between La Bassée and Bethune.

A report of the capture of the Tahure village on the same named hill comes from Paris. The German general staff announced on Wednesday: "All attempts of the French to reopen the offensive in the Champagne after furious artillery bombardments broke down along the whole front under our fire. Only on very few places they were able to reach our main lines where they were checked." "The military expert of the 'Berliner Rund' (Swiss) estimates the number of explosives used by the Allies in the late battles at 2,000,000. "More than thirty divisions were put into action by the Allies in their new offensive which now may be set down definitely as a failure," he says.

The German war office claims that in the battles north of Arras and in the Champagne in the last September days 211 officers and 10,731 men were captured. In the Argonne the crown prince took over 7,000.

Far about a week there has been an unusual quiet on the Eastern front in the Wilja, the Upper Niemen and the Pripiet regions. Evidently a recommitment of forces on account of withdrawals to the west front and Serbia has taken place and a re-arrangement of local fronts. Infantry is taken back and heavy artillery installed in its place. In many parts the Germans have dug themselves in.

The German army now has control of the railroad from Wilna to Rovno almost and can remain in the defensive on its centre while Hindenburg and Linsingen continue their operations north and south at both wings. That there will be no further offensive movements on a larger scale is indicated by the withdrawal of two cavalry divisions which have gone to Serbia, and the transfer of General Mackensen to the same field, who is supposed to become the general commander of the united forces there.

Russian efforts to cross the German plans do not meet with much success. A new Russian drive to relieve Duernaburg (Dwinsk) was thwarted at Kojany by Hindenburg's cavalry. He is bringing up his heavy guns and concentrating more troops around the fortress which is invested on three sides now. Heavy snow storms have been impeding his operations.

Einhorn's lines between Smorgon and Wischnow on the Niemen are the object of frequent Russian attacks with the usual failure.

Simultaneous with the French-British offensive the Russians undertook one on Hindenburg's lines from Dwinsk to Smorgon, which utterly failed.

General von Linsingen has won another victory on the Kormin river in Volhynia. In the pursuit he took 2,500 prisoners.

In Southeastern Galicia the Russian started a new drive at Tarnopol, which was cut short by Bothner's guards. A whole Russian division was almost annihilated. What was left, about 1,200 men, was taken prisoners.

The number of prisoners taken in Russia during the month of September is given by Berlin at 96,000.

At the Dardanelles the Turk, who has been reported out of powder in London, not only continues to hold his own but has gained some advantages again over his heavily entrenched enemies. They did not calculate on being caught by the stormy season on the narrow beaches they have been unable to emerge from. Soon we will hear from him in Roumelia.

Constantinople says, under date October 2: "Announcement is made by the war department today that the British forces in Mesopotamia (on the Euphrat) were repulsed in the recent fighting with heavy losses."

This confirms former unofficial reports in which was said that the battle was violent, but the attacks failed. Earl Grey boasted in Parliament with a great English victory.

We do not hear much from the seat of war on the Austro-Italian frontier any more. Italy which turned up on the skirts of the fight does not seem to count as a principal any more except at the green table. Rome reports that the Italians are advancing on Rovereto again, which by former accounts has been in their possession since June. Instead of taking Trieste by backing the granite walls of Doberdo plateau it is to be flanked by way of Gorizia. Meanwhile the Quirinal is waiting on London for "munition". The stock is running low.

The Austro-German campaign in Serbia has begun on Thursday with the forced crossing of the frontier rivers Danube Save and Drina at Orsova Semendria and Simitz. A firm foothold has been gained, as is reported from Berlin.

London says that the Austro-German troops number 400,000, the Bulgarian 300,000 and the Turkish, who are to operate in Serbia, 250,000, but these figures are largely overdrawn. The Bulgarian's part of the campaign, by a London guess, will consist mostly in crippling the railway from Saloniki through the Vardar valley to Uskub and Mitrovitz, along which the Allies are advancing and by which Serbia gets its supplies. Only sixty miles from Saloniki it passes the Bulgarian border near Strumitza, the scene of the late raid of the Bulgarian raiders. French troops have already taken possession of it as far as Arret Hissar, 40 miles from Saloniki.

Ottawa advises say that a Russian fleet is laying before the Bulgarian Black Sea port Varna and is bombarding harbor and coast. King Ferdinand is directing the movements of the Bulgarian troops from Philippopolis, where general headquarters have been established. He had a war conference with General von Sanders, the commander of the Turkish forces, on Thursday.

The French army has lost her giant air battler Alcaze. It was brought down by a German airplane after it had bombarded the railroad centres Vonziers and Atigny, where the Germans have large military depots.

The Balkan which has been the cyclone corner of Europe for a century is now witnessing the fury of a storm of its own making. Bulgaria has joined the Central Powers and is on the firing line to south at both wings. That there will be no further offensive movements on a larger scale is indicated by the withdrawal of two cavalry divisions which have gone to Serbia, and the transfer of General Mackensen to the same field, who is supposed to become the general commander of the united forces there.

Venezelos, once Greece's hero, sold out to the Allies by allowing them free scope at Saloniki, but King Constantine put his foot down on the shameful bargain. Venezelos had to go a second time. A new cabinet has been formed which is obligated to the observance of neutrality.

The king would not be driven into a new war with an empty treasury and a small army altogether insufficient for it. The country has been impoverished and cannot risk costly adventures. King Constantine has been very plain to the opposition about these things.

Romania is standing arms at rest. It leaned to Russia as long as the Russian army stood at its borders ready to march into Hungary, but with its defeat Romania's attitude has changed. It too has an old score to settle with Russia because after saving it at Blevna Russia took rich Bessarabia from her and made her take the much smaller and poorer Dobruja instead.

There is said to be an understanding between the Central Powers, Greece and Romania, but even if there is not it is to the interest of the two small states to remain neutral after Bulgaria has said the die. This gives Germany and Austria a free hand in the Balkan on the road to Gallipoli much to the discomfort of the Allies who have been chasing after the Balkan states ever since the war began.

The John P. Morgan et al "six per cent" syndicate war loan has at last been placed but had to be cut to half of the original call. Every one who bought $50 worth of it will be on his knees now every day in prayer that the (his) allies make good so his bonds will not be after the war what the confederate bonds in English hands are today.

The British papers are not "enthused" over the six per cent success of their war loan in the United States. The Manchester Guardian says: "It is evident that the American bankers are better satisfied with making a profit of 10 million dollars on a loan instead of England sending the gold for payment of its bills, but the British people are not, and it is fortunate that the loan has to be ratified by Parliament. Better make John P. Morgan & Co. a present with a couple millions of sterling and drop the loan, than ruin Great Britain's credit abroad." It must indeed be an edifying spectacle to the proud Britisher to see his state securities hawked about in a rival country at a ruinous interest rate to find purchasers.

The biggest subscribers to the loan are the Duponts of the big powder works and Chas. M. Schwab, the Bethlehem gun and munition manufacturer.

French aviators have thrown bombs into the city of Luxembourg, capital of the like named neutral little principality, which fell on the market place. A number of people were wounded, nobody killed. The government of Luxembourg has protested in Paris. It says that it has done more to alleviate suffering in France and Belgium and therefore is entitled to consideration.

In the "International" Alexander Harvey has given us a description of the personality of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States. He says, he is a blend of strength and charm as a character and a diplomatist of genius. The skillful manner in which he has overcome the German-American crisis has proved this.

The Japanese "Nippon Dempo" reports that for more war supplies to Russia a certain power has offered to furnish the Japanese government funds for the enlargement of its arms and munition factories. The power in question can be no other than the one who has just arranged a loan with John P. Morgan and other so-called American bankers.

According to the statistics of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, compiled by Actuary B. A. Gould, there were 176,817 volunteers of German nativity in the Union army from 1861 to 1865, a greater percentage than any other class has furnished American born not excepted. Of direct German descent in the second and third generation there were certainly three times that many. Wasn't that proof of patriotism?

Bethlehem, Pa., where Chas. M. Schwab's gun and munition works are, the largest in the United States, was originally a German settlement, founded by the Moravian brothers, the strongest adherents of the peace gospel. In Prussia they are exempt from military service.

Aubrey Stanhope, the American writer, has visited Berlin. He says that since beginning of the war seventy new restaurants have been established in Berlin. Central. He dined in one for ten cents and had plenty. Everything was good and palatable. What gave him pleasure was the neatness of the place and the courtesy of the waitresses.

The municipality of Moscow has made report to the Duma of the late riots in that city. She

Lesson II.—Fourth Quarter, For

Oct. 10, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings II, 1-12.

Memory Verses, 11, 12—Golden Text

Ps. xvi, 11—Commentary Prepared by

Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The first book of Kings ends with a brief record of Ahab's successor, his son Ahaziah, who walked in the ways of his father and mother and of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, who made

Israel to sin. There is also the record

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Secret.)
"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known physician, "is to keep the liver and bowels active. Without these organs in good working order, the blood is impure, the system is poisoned, the complexion is sallow, the eyes are red, the hair falls out, the skin wrinkles, and the whole system is in a state of decay."
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing any after-effects, has been the problem for centuries. There is a prescription of unguessed merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humblest of plants, the root of which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be compared with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'natural' tablets—that is the name—so that use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless, vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)
Unpleasant eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallowness or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels, and a sallow blood stream as a consequence. Now, to all in such cases, to report to outward applications, which never have permanent results, is like using a very simple remedy, to use in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula in the morning is so easy, so simple, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of the wonderful results of 'Sentinal tablets'—that's the name—these are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so simple, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinal tablets are not only the most famous remedy for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most reliable treatment for the complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "Sentinal" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to be a natural blood purifier, and with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize the advantage over calomel and the usual laxatives.
Sentinal tablets, aside from their effect on the bowels, have their success largely due to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning of the liver, instead of forcing it to work. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their popularity is another reason for the popularity of sentinal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and swallow one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and sallow complexion, has finally been found. "Druggists Review."

TEN DAYS ARE GIVEN IN WHICH TO DECIDE ABOUT THE RESERVOIR

The city board of control has assumed a stand pat attitude in the matter of repairing the reservoir wall break, interested in no way as to what caused the trouble but solely in seeing to it that the city gets what is contracted for, an 8-million gallon storage basin.

The board has granted the J. F. Witmer Company ten days time in which to complete its investigation, hold conferences and determine the method to be used in repairing the reservoir.

The Witmer Company's formal report on its findings and the mayor's acknowledgment of the report are as follows:

To the Hon. The Mayor and Board of Control, Portsmouth, Ohio, Gentlemen:—

After making an inspection of the break in the reservoir, we beg to report as follows: We maintain that the plans and specifications for the reservoir call for a safe and stable structure.

If the soil were such as it appears to be in its natural condition it would stand in the embankment called for by the plans and specifications, even if some water did percolate through the concrete walls and bottom as is generally the case with any concrete basin.

The original slope also, on which the embankment that has caused all the trouble was placed is flat enough to warrant the embankment called for to be placed thereon without danger of sliding if the soil were not of such an unusual character.

The theory advanced by some, therefore, that there were springs in the hillside above the reservoir, which flowed down and kept the embankment saturated, is not tenable. The surface water had some time ago also been diverted by ditches and there can be no doubt that the water which caused the trouble all along came from leaks in the sides and bottom of the concrete basin.

In a matter of such importance we deem it advisable before going further into detail to secure the opinion of some other recognized authority in construction work of this character.

We therefore are taking steps to secure the services of Mr. Nicholas S. Hill, C. E., of New York, to come to Portsmouth to look over the plans and the ground and make a report on the whole matter.

Mr. Hill is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. He is president of the American Water Works Association, and was formerly chief engineer of the New York City water works.

We will endeavor to have him come to Portsmouth at the very earliest possible date. Yours very truly, J. F. WITMER, CO., Per J. F. Witmer, Engineer.

RESERVOIR, October 9th, 1915.

Messrs. J. F. Witmer Company, Engineers, Buffalo, New York. Dear Sirs:—Respecting yours of the eighth instant with special reference to your report on the Hill-top Reservoir.

We note that you ask for sufficient time to bring your consulting engineers from New York City here to confer with your company as to the method to be used in making this repair. To this the board advises that they grant you ten days during which to hold your conference and determine what your answer will be.

If you, as engineers, or Curtis and Shawway, as contractors, cannot provide this class of construction for the city under the existing contract, we expect to be so advised within the limit of ten days from this date, that we may proceed under the city's rights.

Respectfully submitted, ATAM FRICK, Mayor. President Board of Control.

"MAN'S HEART CAN MOST EASILY BE REACHED BY WAY OF HIS STOMACH"

There is "more truth than poetry" in the above statement, but the fact remains that unless a man can enjoy what he must put into his stomach, he leads a miserable existence, and proves a poor workman. To the chronic sufferer from stomach trouble, usually the whole world seems to have gone wrong. To such people no sacrifice would be too great in order to get relief. "For a long time I have had stomach trouble," states J. W. Tobey, of 1724 8th St., Portsmouth, "without getting relief until I began to take this new medicine Tanlac. It gave me relief right away." Hundreds of Portsmouth's best citizens are telling others daily the wonderful results that they are receiving from this truly wonderful medicine. In the great majority of instances of stomach disease, trouble can be traced back to a catarrhal affection of the nose and throat, which catarrhal affection having extended to the stomach and digestive tract. Catarrhal troubles are prevalent in all cities like Portsmouth. By the remarkable results it is accomplishing, Tanlac has caused a sensation in Portsmouth. It is aptly called the "Master Medicine", and proves most effective for stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal disorders. Also catarrhal troubles and rheumatism. Tanlac is on sale in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, corner Sixth and Chillicothe Streets. Adv.

CARTOONIST BECOMING FAMOUS

Edgar Schilder, a native of Chillicothe and well known here, is fast mounting the ladder of fame in the cartoonists' field. In September of this year, he became associated with the International Syndicate, through which concern his work is now being distributed to some of the leading papers in the country. His work promptly met with favor all over the country.

Schilder's mascot, "Steve", a black cat, which appears in all his pictures, has become famous all over the country, and is indispensable in all of his cartoons. Schilder was born in Chillicothe, also the home of "Billy" Ireland of the Columbus Dispatch; W. L. Evans of Cleveland, and of Steel of the Milwaukee Journal. He got his start in chalk plate work on the Chillicothe Gazette, and from there came to this city, then in turn to Columbus, Denver, St. Joseph, Indianapolis, and Ft. Wayne.

Mr. Schilder is a nephew of George Goodman of this city.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair. Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't say gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, trouble, wages, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

Bertha, O.—Dear Dolly—To settle a dispute, I want to know if the people over in Italy are savages. I say they are civilized in their ways and my friend says they aren't.

BABY DOLL.

You are right. The people in Italy are just as civilized as they are here in Portsmouth. Some of the most famous singers, painters, sculptors, professors, musicians, surgeons, etc., the world ever produced came from Italy. Your friend would do well to "read up" on such things.

Dear Miss Wise—How should a girl ask a man to return if she enjoys his company the first time he calls?

LUCY.

When leaving, a man usually says something about having spent a pleasant evening—it is the conventional thing to say, and then you should thank him and say that you would be glad to have him call again. Even if the young man is bashful, and forgets his "manners," you could ask him to call again, with perfect propriety.

Dear Miss Wise—What is a good excuse for me to practice to do away the chest? What do you advise me to do for brittle nails?

HATTIE.

Depress the chest, letting the shoulders come forward with the head up and back. Raise the chest by muscular effort, not by breathing to the point of greatest expansion. Raise and lower the chest in this way eight times. Apply cold cream to your nails before retiring at night. Holding the finger tips in a vessel containing enough warm olive oil to cover the nails will also tend to make the nails less brittle.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please give me a first-class tonic to use on my hair to remove dandruff?

ROSALIE.

The sulphur treatment should prove helpful. To an ounce of sulphur add a quart of soft water and during intervals of several days agitate the mixture repeatedly. After the sulphur has settled to the bottom of the receptacle use the clear liquid. Saturate the head with it every morning, and in a few weeks every trace of the dandruff will have disappeared. The hair will become soft and glossy, and there will be no return of the old trouble. This remedy, however, will darken light hair.

Dear Dolly—When a girl is entertaining a young man caller, should she serve some little light lunch, and what would be appropriate?

NELLIE.

It isn't necessary to have something to eat everything a man calls, but it is nice to invite another couple or two in occasionally and pay corn or make candy. It promotes a cozy, charming sort of a feeling. Chafing dish suppers are also attractive once in awhile. Whatever you do, don't make anything elaborate. If your guests are permitted to help with the candy, pop-corn or chafing dish concoctions they will feel much more at home.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me how I can refurnish my bed-room without very much expense.

Can you estimate how much a room would cost furnished in mahogany, and would yellow over-drapes be appropriate in such a room? My room has a west exposure. Frankly, I cannot afford to put very much money into it.—WORKING GIRL.

I am afraid you will find mahogany prohibitively expensive, if you want to hold down the cost as low as possible. It is possible to get very good imitation mahogany (which is stained birch) for much less, and it is quite pretty. The big decorators in the East are just beginning to combine a dull shade of yellow with mahogany, so if you use that combination you will have something "new" in all events. The mahogany and old blue, which are of course complementary colors, was decidedly overdone, and yellow has stepped in to take its place. If you decide on mahogany furniture, have your bedroom chairs of ricker (in the natural color) and cover the cushions with cretonne to match your over-drapes. Such a room could be furnished for as little as a hundred dollars, and from that on up. I think you could "jackhole" a less expensive room, and one just as attractive, by having white or grey enameled furniture. That combines expensively with the old-fashioned rag rugs of blue and rose, and your draperies could carry out the color scheme. Don't have a one color room whatever you do, because it is bound to get on your nerves. Why not visit the different furniture stores and ask for their best figures on a mahogany bedroom suit. That's the best way to find out just exactly what it will cost to refurnish your room. If you could sell your old furniture that would help some.

All in all it was a stupendous and amazing display of pride in the home town that marks it as the most inspiring event of the Carnival week. Because of it more than thirty thousand people went home that night with the full conviction that they lived in the best and bravest town on which the bright sun would rise the morrow.

You'd surely think so, if you were trying to earn the small stipend a big government pays you for your invaluable services and had to sit for eight long mortal hours and hear a merry-go-round organ everlastingly, unceasingly wheezing out "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," and "He's a Devil of a Fellow in His Own Home Town." Besides you'd feel like being something worse than the latter.

Joe Knuppe, a retired B. & O. S.-W. passenger engineer and son-in-law J. T. Ogier, a prominent hardware merchant of Haverhill, came down Thursday to attend the Korn Karnival. Joe's many local friends were agreeable to be surprised to find him looking and feeling so well. He is one of the most popular railroad men on the Portsmouth branch.
